Sketchquential

A party drawing game where the players, given a randomized madlib prompt ("a [adjective] [noun] [present participle]"), take timed turns completing one drawing on a single shared canvas.

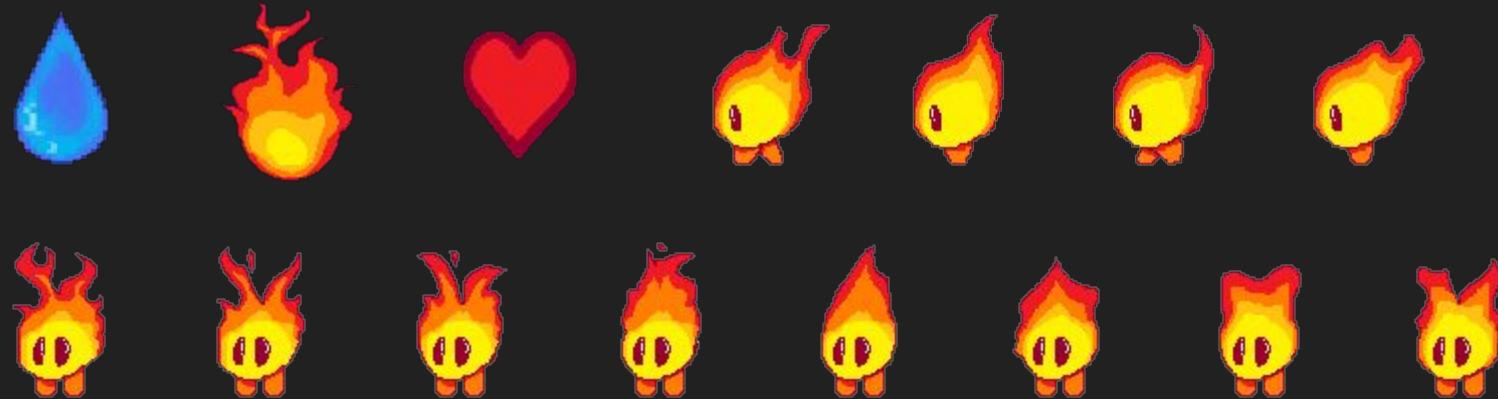

Flame–Game Demo

I programmed a simple game about a little sentient flame who is stuck in the middle of a rainstorm. The goal is to survive in the rainstorm (and gain the most points) for as long as possible.

Flame–Game Sprites

Touching Grass

I programmed a website hosting a game I designed, critiquing the absurdity of the Internet and its tendency to radicalize & sensationalize anything & everything. I am currently developing a zine expanding on this concept and characters.

Two Spools of My Soul

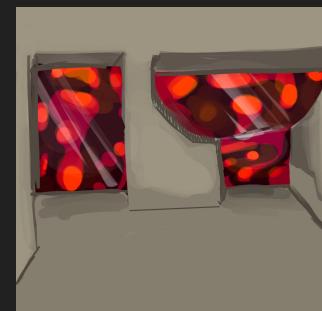

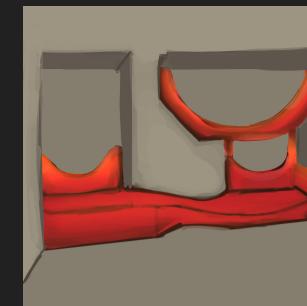

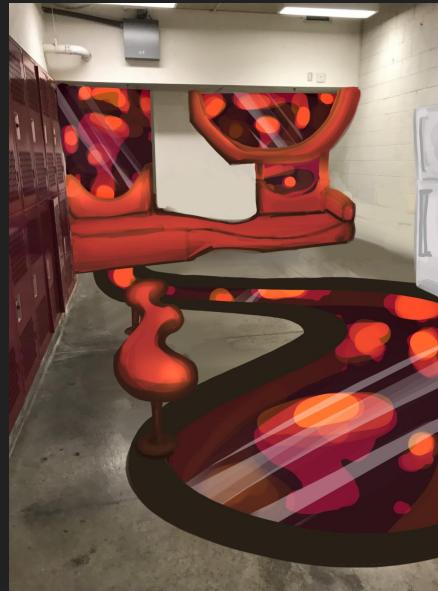

Winner of the Greater Conejo Valley Juried Art Show's Greg Cole Memorial Award, this piece is an introspection of my identity as a Filipino-American.

Acrylic paint on canvas, 18x24", 2022.

Locker Room Redesign

Envisioning an enhanced version of my high school women's basketball locker room, I redesigned certain aspects of the room to foster a fun, unwinding environment. While some facets of the redesign are not entirely plausible, the purpose was to create a fun environment given the restraints of the room's materials.

Objects as Self Portrait

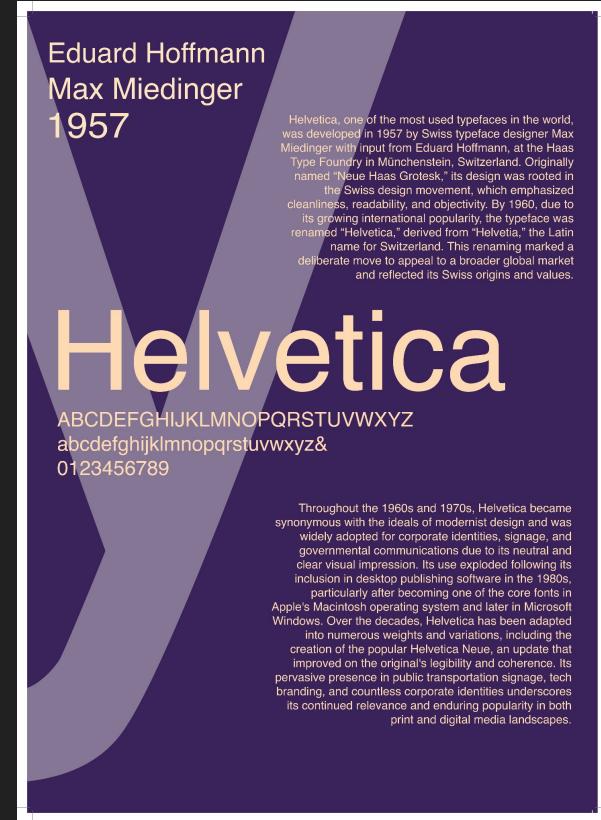

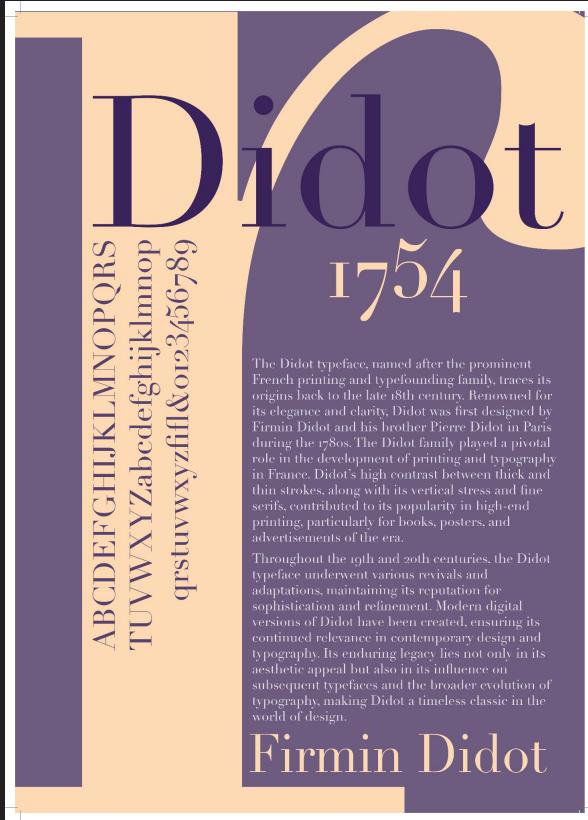

Value study.

Charcoal on paper, 14x17", 2023.

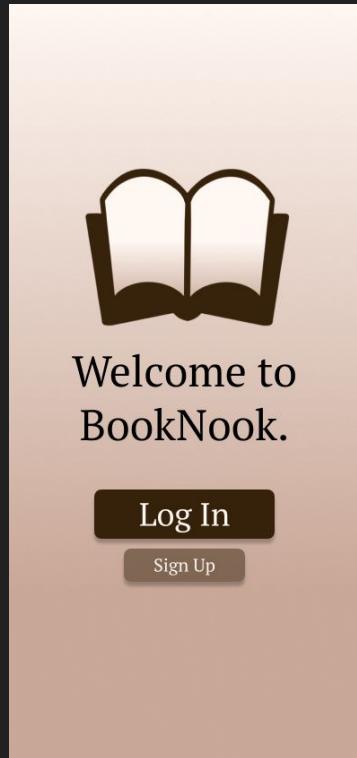

Typeface Posters

Further developed my Adobe Illustrator skills, I designed a pair of informational posters on the typefaces Didot & Helvetica and their respective backgrounds.

BookNook

I'm designing an app that tracks the books the user has read and their respective ratings & notes through a goal-achievement-based system.

Bea's Goals

- Bookworm Read 50 books. Now that's an expansive library!
- Harsh Critic Rate 15 books 1 star. They can't all be that bad!
- Speedreader Read 3 books in one week. Easy breezy!
- In a Slump Take 3+ months to finish a book. We've all been there.

Bea's Profile

- Notes From Underground by Fyodor Dostoevsky (Completed)
Notes: Related to the main character a bit too much...
- The Sympathizer by Viet Thanh Nguyen (Reading)
Notes: Weirdly funny
- Why Fish Don't Exist by Lulu Miller (Not Started)

Your Friends' Activity

- Emma Completed reading A Court of Thorns and Roses (Sarah J. Maas)! They rated it 5 stars. 2 ❤️ 3 🗣
- You Added Vicious (V.E. Schwab) to their list. 4 ❤️ 0 🗣
- Sophie Added a note to The Scarlet Letter (Nathaniel Hawthorne): "This is actually awful please don't" 1 ❤️ 0 🗣

Add a note for your friends to see!
